TOWN TALK.

Additional local will be found on the first page.
 Winter has not come down upon us very severely thus far.
 The travel between here and Petoskey is quite extensive of late.
 The Congregational Sunday School are talking up a Christmas tree.
 Many of the horses in the logging camps are having the epizootic.
 The Christmas ball at the Brutus House has been postponed one week.
 The M. E. Church Social next Wednesday evening at Mr. Samuel Taylor's.
 The schooner Roscius lying at Huron's dock has a very dilapidated appearance.
 Nearly all the Mackinaw tugs have been laid up in the river for the winter.
 It may not be generally known, but both our foundries manufacture box stoves.
 A number of our citizens took advantage of the fine day yesterday for a sleigh ride.
 McArthur, Smith & Co. call attention to their new store and new goods in a supplement this week.
 Mr. Sam. D. Chatterton of the Clam Lake News made the TRIBUNE office a call last Thursday morning.
 The sewer on Division street has progressed as far as Main street and yesterday was obstructing the travel upon that street.
 The stage driver brings us information from Petoskey that nearly one half of the village of Clam Lake was burned last Thursday.
 P. M. Lathrop makes some important announcements in the form of a supplement, this week, which it will pay everybody to notice.
 Major C. M. Terrell of the U. S. army stopped a few days at the Spencer House this week. He was waiting a chance to go to Mackinaw.
 It is understood that the miserant who fired McArthur Brothers' barn at Copper Creek, whereby they lost seven fine horses, has been arrested.
 Mr. Smith has now a contract with the railroad company whereby he is enabled to deliver freight from all the principal points at very reasonable rates.
 The dance at Wertheimer's Hall on Christmas eve promises to be quite an extensive affair. (Mr. Spencer) furnishes the supper to all who desire at any hour.
 A young man in our town has engaged the services of one of our preachers to perform the interesting ceremony of marriage. He is now looking diligently for the girl.
 Parties seem to have been quite the rage in the village during the past week or two. Scarcely a night has passed but that there has been one or more parties in some part of town.
 We have received a number of pieces of sheet music from White & Co., music publishers of Saginaw City. When our musical editor has time to examine them, he will notice them in his next issue.
 Now that the Sunday school people are talking about Christmas trees, they find that they must make arrangements for the accommodation of a large number of little sinners who always want to be saved about Christmas time.
 1876 is near at hand and it is leap year. As the ladies may do the calling on January, let us give this notice that our bachelor friends who are slack house-keepers, will have time to get their rooms in order.
 We call attention to the prospectus of the Atlantic Monthly which we publish this week. It is one of the oldest and best magazines in the country and stands prominently at the head of all such publications in a strictly literary point of view.
 The Traverse City Herald thinks that it is not possible that six sensible men would think of locating upon the 1300 acre tract of land upon Mullett lake in preference to the 500 acre tract offered by Traverse City. If Brother Leach would come and look over the ground, he might change his mind and think with us, that they would show that they were sensible men by so doing.

THE CAMP MEETING.

The Locating Committee's Visit Cheboygan.

Five Thousand Dollars Offered if the Mullett Lake Site be Chosen.

THE LOCATION NOT YET DECIDED UPON.

As announced last week the locating committee of the state camp meeting association paid a visit to Cheboygan on Wednesday. They reached Petoskey on Tuesday evening where they were met by arrangement by Mr. John McKay, who took them in charge and escorted them through from Petoskey over the ground selected. They were met at Maple River by F. M. Sammons, who piloted the party down the shores of Burt Lake, and thence over the grounds selected for them, and from there down the shores of Mullett Lake to this village, arriving about seven o'clock.
 The committee consisted of Rev. Dr. McCarty, of Jackson, S. O. Knapp, Esq., Jackson, Rev. R. Bird, Rochester, D. B. Tracy, and D. Prentiss, of Detroit. During the evening they were called upon at the Spencer House by quite a number of our citizens. After some time spent in an informal exchange of opinions, and forming each other's acquaintance, the committee and citizens retired to the parlor, where Rev. Dr. McCarty formally stated the object of their visiting this place, and stated at considerable length the plans proposed to be adopted by the association for the improvement of the grounds wherever they were located. This was quite fully explained in last week's paper, therefore it is deemed unnecessary to repeat it. Dr. McCarty also gave a short statement regarding the places they had visited, and those offering them inducements to locate near them. He stated that they were locating not for the present alone, but for the future; that money was not the basis upon which the location was to be made, but that the greatest good to the greatest number would be taken into consideration as well.
 Mr. Knapp, of Jackson, stated that he felt authorized to state that the Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw railroad would furnish them all the land that they desired, and that any proposition that the citizens of Cheboygan might make had better be made outside of the land question.
 Mr. W. S. Humphrey, in behalf of the citizens, stated that owing to the fact that only a few days had elapsed since our citizens first became aware that the committee had any idea of locating in the vicinity of our inland lakes, that they had had no opportunity of deciding what could be done in the way of an inducement. After consultation he announced that a definite proposition would be made for the morrow.
 Mr. Humphrey then in a few words stated the advantages which a location upon these lakes would have over any location heretofore proposed. The meeting then adjourned until morning.
 Thursday morning the citizens to quite a number gathered in Humphrey's law office, and after canvassing the subject considerably, concluded to offer them $5,000, provided they would locate upon the grounds between Mullett and Burt lakes.
 At ten o'clock the committee and citizens again gathered into the Spencer House parlor, and the inducement for Monday offered the locating committee. The offer was conceded by all to be a most liberal one, but the great obstacle seemed to be the present lack of facilities to get upon the grounds.
 Was the inland navigation improvement a fixed fact, we could talk and show up our advantages with some assurance of success. These lands upon some great established thoroughfare, there would not be a member of the committee but who would admit of the great natural advantages of this location over any other. The committee finally decided to withhold their decision upon the location until after the meeting of the Board of Control, on the 24th of this month, when the fate of the inland improvement will be known positively. If the Board decides to make the improvement and makes the necessary appropriation for it, it will no doubt make the chances of Cheboygan county securing the location much greater.
 The committee started about noon Thursday for Petoskey on their return home.
 In this connection it may not be amiss to say that whatever credit is due for attracting the attention of the committee this way is due to Mr. John McKay, who conceived the idea, and spent the necessary time and attention during his last visit outside to secure a visit from the committee to this location.
 Whether the grounds are located here or at some other point, the time and expense which was necessary to secure the visit is not thrown away. The attention of nearly the entire state has been attracted this way, and many kind notices have been given this section of the country by the press of the state in this connection. If nothing comes of the matter more than the advertisement that this has given us, it will be a profitable investment. It is to be hoped, however, that other and still more important advantages will accrue. The interest and labors bestowed upon this matter by Mr. McKay will be justly appreciated by our citizens.
 In the appropriate column will be found the notice of the marriage of Mr. George Wharton and Miss Kittie Hamel. Both parties are well known here and have hosts of friends who will join with the TRIBUNE in extending their congratulations to the happy couple, and wishing them a long and prosperous life.

Is It Right?

During the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last Wednesday, the Local Commissioner of the inland lake improvement, as provided for by law, presented his bill for the expense of the survey of the same, so far as had been incurred to that date. The total amount was $574.10 of which half was apportioned to this and half to the county of Emmet. The expense for the amount of work which has been accomplished was low, indeed the Board found not the least fault with it, but by a unanimous vote audited it, and directed that orders be drawn on the treasurer for the amount. The only question that was raised before was where the money was to come from to pay it, there having been no special appropriation made for this purpose. This objection, however, had very little weight with the Board for they voted to pay the bill. The orders were made out by the clerk after the adjournment of the Board, and presented to the chairman, Supervisor Wiley, for his signature. This gentleman signed orders for all other necessities which had been allowed, but refused to sign these, upon the ground named, that no special appropriation had been made for the payment of this money.
 Now we ask is this right? There was no question about the justice of the account. The work has been honestly done, and the parties who did it need their pay for it. They should have it. There is money enough in the treasury of Cheboygan county to pay it. Five-sixths of the Board of Supervisors by their vote said pay it. One man who happens to have the power in his hands says it shall not be paid. We maintain that under the law it is his duty to sign those orders, and that by his refusal to sign the orders, violated the law that he has sworn to obey.
 As we understand Mr. Wiley's position, he is willing to sign the orders payable a year hence, or is willing to issue a county bond which can be sold, and then he will sign the order for the payment of this account. Let us look at the matter. There is money enough in the treasury, or provided for, to pay the expenses of the county the coming year. Then with the payment of this bill there would no doubt be enough to last until about next November at least. Then if there is not enough, let the county borrow $300 for sixty days. Is there any use of paying interest for money as long as there is money in the county treasury? It would simply be borrowing $300 now and paying interest on it a whole year, because we think next November we may want that amount of money. We do not think it would be the correct thing to make the people pay interest on money while they have money in the treasury lying idle. It would simply be throwing away about $35 of the people's money. The accounts should be paid at once. It is winter and the men need the money that they have earned. The faith of the county is pledged to pay it. Is it right, just, or honest, for one man to defeat the wishes of the people?

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned members of the committee appointed to locate suitable grounds for the state camp meeting, having been invited to visit the region near Cheboygan, desire to express our thanks to John McKay and W. Chantler, Esqs., and other citizens of Cheboygan, for the cordial invitation and courteous manner in which we have been taken to and from their beautiful and thriving young city. We have been more than gratified at seeing the enterprising and manifest progress of the place. We have been surprised at the growth and signs of wealth everywhere apparent along the route from Petoskey to Cheboygan. We also highly appreciate the generous offer of material aid promised us should we locate on any of the grounds shown us.
 (Signed.)

A Christmas Tree.

The Methodist Sunday school are to have a grand time on Christmas Eve, Friday, December 24th. In connection, there will be a concert, embracing the Christmas ball exercise, which will entertain and instruct both old and young. The public are invited to make this tree the medium of conveyance for tokens of love and regard to children, parents, scholars, teachers, lovers, &c. Presents to be sent to the church, properly labeled, between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon, (secrets kept.)
 Santa Claus will be there, and wishes to see all his old friends. Don't disappoint him, and though he charges nothing, he would like to have a little change to pay traveling expenses. The name of the superintendent, Mr. Weed, insures a success. Exercises to commence at 6 o'clock.
 The Evening News.
 The prospectus of this little Detroit daily appeared last week, but want of time prevented us from referring to it as its merits deserve. The News is emphatically a newspaper, and a Michigan paper at that. It has met with greater success as far as circulation is concerned, than any other paper in the state, or we might say in the west. It has been severely criticised. This is an indication that there is life and energy in it. It is cheap, only 60 cents per year, and these are probably the reasons why everybody takes and reads it.
 Cheboygan Abroad.
 Quite a large number of Cheboygan workmen and foremen are in the employ of Messrs. Wm. and Archibald McArthur, upon their extensive contracts at Copper Creek and the Fox river in Illinois. They consider them among their best men. The weather thus far this fall has been very favorable for their work. During the month of November they did about $20,000 worth of work. The fire noticed last week, will not interfere materially with their work, as the horses will be immediately replaced.

 PROSPECTUS FOR 1876.
 THE EVENING NEWS.
 DETROIT, MICHIGAN.
 THE EVENING NEWS, now in its third year, is the acknowledged great newspaper success of the decade. Established just on the eve of the financial panic of 1873, in a city containing four other daily newspapers, and papers too among the ablest in the west, it has in this short period, and under these adverse circumstances, by sheer force of energy, and a spirit, won for itself a circulation far exceeding that of all its Detroit contemporaries combined, an immense popularity throughout the state, and a sound financial standing such as any paper three times its size might envy.
 It is a second financial standing such as any paper of over 16,000 copies, of these about 8,000 are taken in the interior towns and places of Michigan, as far west as St. Louis and north to Lexington and Traverse City. Whatever it is once taken it rarely loses its hold.
 The EVENING NEWS is independent in politics, fighting corruption, monopoly and all intrigues and intrigues which may become apparent to reader who is hit.
 Few papers in the country prove so tall the power of the day in a more rapid and reliable shape, everything "up," money and action being rightly excluded from its columns. Trivial matters are confined to the smallest compass, while really important events secure all the attention that the largest and most successful papers could give.
 No Detroit paper gives more faithful attention to market reports, although less voluminous than the larger journals. Improvements in this and all other departments will be introduced as their utility may become apparent.
 In view of the Centennial celebration, the President's address, and other great events, the year 1876 will be a year of peculiar interest and one in which the intelligent citizen should read a daily newspaper, if over.
 The terms of the EVENING NEWS are only $3 a year, or 50 cents per month, postage included, in advance. The cheapest daily paper of its size in the west. Address: Cheboygan, Mich.
